What are EBSCOhost Secondary Databases?

EBSCOhost secondary databases are those which contain data that is delivered by and licensed from another publisher or database provider. EBSCO does not revise any data in secondary databases; however, we pass along pertinent information to the publisher.

For information on available databases, please go to: www.ebscohost.com and select your type of institution from the options at the top of the screen.